NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The Want of Water.

The drought from which Hongkong continues to suffer is probably one of the longest and most acute from which the Colony has suffered in its whole history of nearly three quarters of a century. Last year was a most phenomenal one as regards rainfall. Our Spring rains, coming after an abnormally dry season, failed us to the extent of some twenty-five inches, and the rains which accompany the typhoons of the Summer and early Autumn, and upon which we depend to a very great extent to fill the reservoirs for the dry season, failed utterly, for not a single typhoon came sufficiently near to the Colony to give us a respectable downpour. The present year has certainly opened anything but auspiciously. The early rains which usually come about Chinese New Year, failed to put in an appearance; the whole rainfall for the month of February amounted to only one-fifth of an inch—not sufficient to lay the dust or wash the foliage of the trees. We are now in the middle of March and, despite the clouds which gathered in a promising manner in the early-part of the week, seem to be as far off our Spring rains as ever.

The only wonder is that the Colony has remained so healthy through such a trying period, for the drains must be in a fearful state, as is shown by the very unpleasant manner in which they make their presence felt at every trap and opening. Messrs. BUTTERFIELD and SWIRE have come to the rescue in a very creditable manner, and certainly deserve the thanks of the whole community for placing their reservoir at the service of the public, but their water will not last for ever. The fact that Hongkong's storage reservoirs are inadequate to supplying the population during a dry season has been amply demonstrated during the last three or four years and it is to be hoped that the Government will leave no stone unturned in their efforts to place our water supply upon a satisfactory footing without further waste of time. Should the present season prove as dry as the last, Hongkong might not be so fortunate as to escape those epidemics usually attendant upon a water famine.

The Kwangsi Rebellion.

There is always rebellion of some sort in progress in China, we are told, but the country is so vast, distances so great and means of communication so poor, that it is not surprising that the great majority of the risings seldom or never come to the ears of the foreigners scattered along the fringe of the Celestial Empire. When news does come to hand it is often meagre in the extreme and can hardly be depended upon from the fact of its having in many instances been passed on from mouth to mouth and altered or added to to suit the taste of each particular narrator.

In another column we publish some news of the rebellion now in progress in Kwangsi, which, as it is gleaned from official reports sent to Peking, may be taken as being fairly correct. From this it will be seen that the rebellion is of considerable extent and that the rebels are well armed and apparently quite as well organized as the Imperial troops. Whether anything will really come of it it is impossible to say, for China is a land of surprises and contradictions, and the Kwangsi rebellion and Boxer rising came from small beginnings and were pool-pooched by many people as utterly out of the bounds of possibility. We shall await further news of the state of affairs in Kwangsi with interest.

Ireland.

That "most distressful country" Ireland always appears to be in the throes of some form of disturbance or other, and it now appears that so unsettled is the state of affairs there that the King has been advised by his Ministers not to make his projected visit to the country this year. Undoubtedly this disturbed state of things is in a large measure due to the irresponsible vapourings of a few dissatisfied people, and to the outrageous conduct of the Irish Members of the House of Commons, who have behaved in a manner which would never be tolerated in any other country. There cannot be the least possible doubt that we draw a large proportion of our best and most loyal soldiers and public servants from Ireland, and it is a thousand pities to see the country kept in a state of semi-rebellion by a party of men who really don't know what they want and wouldn't be satisfied even if they got it; which statement sounds somewhat Irish, but describes the situation.

A YOUNG GENTLEMAN was brought up at the Ku Sibansho the other day. Kobe Chronicle says, charged with stealing a bicycle. Asked why he done this thing, he said he was a student of English, and seeing the bicycle standing idle near a doorway, an English friend told him that it was a free wheel, whereupon he had taken it out for a ride, when a policeman interfered and deprived both himself and the wheel of their freedom. "The English," as he told the judge, "is an atrocious language."

THE PANIC AMONGST CHINESE IN PORT ARTHUR.—A large number of Chinese merchants doing business in Port Arthur have lately returned South with their families, owing, as they say, to having heard in that port that the Russians are preparing for war against Japan. The warlike activity also seen in Port Arthur by the merchants has not lessened their panic, and the news brought to Shanghai by them seems to show that they are convinced of the truth of it. Goods ordered from Shanghai for Port Arthur have even been countermanded by several Chinese hong.—N. C. Daily News.

THE NEGOTIATIONS have been concluded, says the Shanghai Mercury, between the Shanghai Pilots Association and Mr. F. Carmichael of Hongkong for the construction of a steam pilot boat. The vessel is to be of similar type to the British Government tender Stanley, except that the new boat will have a broader beam and a speed of 9½ knots as against the Stanley's 12. The deck-houses consisting of captain's room, smoking room and dining saloon for hot weather, bath-room, lamp-room, store-room, European and native galleys, etc., will all be constructed of tank wood. The saloon is situated forward and the crews' quarters aft. She will altogether be a smart craft and the first of her kind in the East. The new departure, besides being a boon to the members of the Association, will benefit mail and other shipping companies. The initial expense and upkeep will be heavy, and the Licensed Pilots' Association is to be complimented on its praiseworthy effort, after only two years existence, to serve the public in the best and smartest possible manner. No doubt the authorities will view the departure with pleasure, and it cannot fail to have the effect of consolidating the Shanghai pilots.

"A MUDDIED OAF."—Castells Saturday Journal announces the startling information that the Emperor of Japan is one of the "muddled oafs." It appears that his Majesty is an athlete and a lover of outdoor sports, introduced football into Japan, and is an excellent hunter and angler.

THE CANTON RIVER.—At their sales rooms to-day Messrs. Hughes and Hough, put up for auction the dredger Canton River which is at present lying over in Hung-hom Bay. The bidding started at $50,000, gradually rising to $84,500 at which price it stopped. No other bids being forthcoming the owners bought in the vessel.

KIDNAPPERS AT WORK.—A Kuikiang despatch states that kidnapping has been going on for some time in that city and that already a large number of young children have been abducted. Though many cases have been reported to the local officials, continues the despatch, no steps have been taken to arrest the kidnappers.

SAILING SHIPS RACE.—The Standard Oil Company has given a prize of 500 dollars to the British sailing ship Brilliant, the victor in the race from New York to Yokohama against the American sailing ship Acme. They both carried kerosene and sailed from New York about the same time, that is to say on August 1st, last year. The Brilliant arrived at Yokohama on January 23rd while the Acme entered the port February 24th.

PARROTS are not generally supposed to range so far north as Hongkong, but we learn that a couple have recently been shot in the Colony, one on the Island and the other in the New Territory. The shooting of a single specimen could of course be put down to an escape, but it is hardly probable that two escaped birds of the same species should be met with in one season and at a considerable distance from the town.

THERE IS A RUMOUR, says a Japanese paper, that Mr. Kondo, President of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, has approached the China Merchants' Steam Navigation Company with a view to purchasing the steamers and any other property of the latter. The Asahi, however, says that viewed from whatever point it is impossible to believe that negotiations of this kind will be attended with success, even admitting there is some truth in the rumour.

THE TARIFF NEGOTIATIONS.—According to the Universal Gazette the Chinese Tariff Commissioners have informed Sir James Mackay that they would not agree to the following four suggestions which Sir James recently made in connection with the new Treaty of Commerce, namely:—

1.—The Importation of foreign salt into China.

2.—The Exportation of rice from China.

3.—The opening up of the interior of China for foreign trade.

4.—The conversion of Peking into a Treaty Port.

THE DIRTY LINEN of the Schmidts, Tomallas and Longs was very thoroughly washed at the Police Court to-day. It seems that one of the Longs called one of the Schmidts a "fat pig" and cast reflections upon her moral character and further, decorated the door of the Schmidts' mansion with a badly executed drawing of a pig. Then the Longs accused the Schmidts and Tomallas of an assault on the aspiring young devotee of art and of indulging in remarks of a "you're another" character. Mr. Hazeland delivered a Long, Schmidt, Tomalla lecture and bound the crowd over in a bond of a hundred dollars to wash their soiled clothing in private for six months.

SAD DEATH OF A SAILOR.—Late last night a sailor, named Blair, from H.M.S. Rambler, went to the Criterion Hotel, Pottinger Street, and demanded apartments, which were duly supplied him. On one of his mates going up to seek for him he found the room empty and a diligent search was made for the missing man, when they eventually found him, in the street lying in a pool of blood, quite dead, with a fractured skull. The police were immediately notified and the body was removed to the mortuary where an inquest will be held. It is surmised that the poor man, under the influence of liquor, met his death by climbing up the scaffolding behind the room, and missing his footing, was dashed to the ground, a distance of thirty feet.

COGILL AND SUTTON'S ENTERTAINERS.

Charles Hoyt's musical comedy, in three acts, A Stranger in New York, was successfully produced last night by the Cogill and Sutton Entertainers at the Theatre Royal to a very good house. From the rise of the curtain to its fall, everything went without a hitch, and considering the hurried rehearsals, every credit is due to the management. As usual, Mr. Harry Cogill and Miss May Arica sustained the heaviest parts, and kept the audience in roars of laughter by their irresistible acting. The character of Baron Sands was in the safe hands of Mr. Fred Altro, whilst Mr. Dave Canton and Miss Lena Harvey appeared to advantage in their impersonations of J. Collier, Dorone and May Ketchum. In the list of local artists, Mr. Osberry as Wright Int was all there. We have never seen Mr. Osberry appear to better advantage; his acting was good and to a stranger, would quite dispel the fact that he was only an amateur. As Will Chase, Mr. (C. C. Clark), played his part with perfect success and received quite an ovation. The other parts were performed with equal success by the other artists. A Stranger in New York will be repeated to-night and we are quite confident that there will be a bumper house.

THE EDUCATION QUESTION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONGKONG TELEGRAPH".
DEAR SIR,—“Fairplay” is inaccurate in his remarks that Dr. Ho Kai & Co. demand a quid pro quo for Mr. Ho Tung's school at Kowloon. He must admit, but I am told he is not directly responsible for the mistake and that he was misled by the Governor as in His Excellency's despatch No. 343 in re Separate Education for European Children, the following passage occurs:—“A petition on the subject of separate education has also been received from a number of Chinese &c.” This is somewhat misleading but “Fairplay” had evidently not noticed the latter part of the paragraph, for does His Excellency not distinctly say by way of explanation that the upper class Chinese are anxious to keep their children separate from those of the poorer classes in Queen's College?

Yours truly,

FOWL-PECK.

Hongkong, 14th March, 1902.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONGKONG TELEGRAPH".
DEAR SIR,—I notice that my short note on the Education Question has called forth quite a storm of denial on the part of certain people. I would beg to remind them of “He who excuses accuses.” Surely if there had not been the ulterior motive of a quid pro quo in prospect the partisans of Dr. Ho Kai would not have thus rushed forward to attack my humble self. As a matter of fact I believe the whole proposal is actuated by a desire to show the Europeans that whatever they receive at the hands of the Government the Chinese are capable of demanding. Perle et Cie splits hairs on the class question, but I am sure that any man with a grain of sense will dismiss his arguments as untenable. As for Justice and Diogenes, it is easily seen that they are simply trying to gloss over the matter to a certain extent and cover the tracks of their friends, so that their demand shall not be hunted down and negated. If you look carefully into the matter you must admit that I have struck the right nail on the head.

Yours, etc.,

FAIRPLAY.

Hongkong, 14th March, 1902.

THE RENT QUESTION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONGKONG TELEGRAPH".
DEAR SIR,—The question of rents has, as you have frequently pointed out in your valuable paper, grown to be one which affects everybody, and the poorer class of Europeans more particularly. Now Sir, if you will take a walk round the City and Kowloon you will find many available building sites lying idle, and if you make enquiries you will find that they all belong to a group of people who may be called the Landlord Ring. These men, who control the bulk of the available building sites, refrain from building in order to keep the rents of their other properties at a high figure, for so long as the demand for houses is in excess of the supply they are able to demand what rents they please and get them. Could not the Government, instead of frittering away its time in naturalizing Chinamen and altering the wording of certain laws, pass a Bill forcing the landlords to build on these sites or forfeit them to the Crown? This would, I am sure, do much to reduce rents. Enclosing my card.

Yours faithfully,

RACKRENTED

TIENTSIN DAY BY DAY.

(From our own Correspondent.)

TIENTSIN, March 3rd.

I have been shut up for a week on the shelf, and hence another gap in the northern narrative. Steamer communication is well established once more and mails will be regular again, the habits of the community likewise sober up, and everyone is beginning to pull themselves together. Not that the winter now brings that relapse into idleness which old residents talk about, but the new ones have only very partially experienced. Even the imperfect winter mail service has practically vetoed the shooting and iceboat excursions of ten years ago, and the closed months bring but a nominal relaxation of the demands of business.

Towards the end of the dramatic season we invariably have something which keeps the popularity of the A.D.C. well alive until the Autumn, and Tientsin has just achieved a really very creditable rendering of Pincro's popular “Magistrate.” The cast included several new performers but the two principals were taken by well-established favourites, I. Leut. St. John as “The Magistrate,” Mrs. Denly as his wife, and Mr. Kennedy as Cis Farrington. It would be difficult to secure a better “Cis” even in London. Theatrical performances now are things of joy in the matter of audience, every box and stall being invariably filled, thanks to the military, but it is noticeable that we take the joy more soberly. Time was when with less than half the present houses we had twice as much applause. We seem a little ashamed to express our feelings in these days, and the actor's chief cue as to the amount of appreciation lies in the number of seats occupied at the second performance.

So far as eye can judge, and searching investigation glean, preparations for staying are being made by the military much faster than they are for leaving. The French, though they are reducing somewhat, have first completed a substantial military hospital, which throws our Jubilee Hospital into the shade, and German buildings proceed apace, while an international parade ground is being formed; I understand.

Militarism fills the air, and Yuan has just issued the following regulations in connection with the raising of his New Army Corps of 40,000, which he expects to mobilize by the end of the 3rd Moon.

- (1) The headmen of each village are to take a census of the people, and report on the number of men willing to serve as soldiers, and they will be held responsible if they recommend any bad characters.
- (2) Any headmen or clerks taking commissions for sending in the names will be punished.
- (3) Corporals will receive Tls 5, and privates Tls 4, 20 per month, and the families will receive a written permit to go to the commanding officer through the local official every six months for money, as Tl 1 per month of the soldier's pay will be retained by the officer for this purpose.
- (4) Should any soldier desert, the headman of his village will be held responsible for his arrest.
- (5) All recruits must be between 20 and 35.
- (6) They must be able to lift 100 catties.
- (7) They must be 48 Chinese inches high.
- (8) They must be able to walk 20 li an hour.

You will probably agree that if Yuan succeeds in raising an army of 40,000 men who all fulfil these conditions he will furnish his country for the first time with a formidable corps so far as physical development is concerned. Their other qualifications remain to be seen, but so long as they are paid regularly on the scale indicated above they will prove good enough.

The wrangle over the Manchurian Convention still drags on. The Chinese Plenipotentiaries recently grew impatient and told the Russian Minister plainly that they had nothing to do with what the late Li Hung-chang had or had not done, and that if Russia did not intend to give the place back she had better say so at once, and not waste so much time talking over it. Now it is stated Russia has backed down to the extent that she invites England, America, Germany and France to enjoy mining rights in the “Eastern Provinces” equally with herself, and she appears to feel that in this suggestion she has reached a climax of magnanimity not often reached in her diplomatic negotiations. It is rightly conjectured that Japan will have something to say to this.

Li Hung-chang's son continues to get favours and has been raised to the 3rd rank and appointed to assist Prince Ching. His name is mentioned as a possible Minister to Russia to succeed the late Yang Ju, whose son is meanwhile, ordered to remain at the Legation in St. Petersburg, where he assisted his father, until the Manchurian affair is settled.

The Russian Minister the other day drew Prince Ching's attention to the fact that Japanese instructors were being engaged to drill China's new military forces and that the matter was being openly mentioned in both foreign and native papers, whereas by an old agreement with Li Hung-chang, Russia was accorded the sole privilege of instructing Chinese troops. Prince Ching for once played a Russia off her own bat and gave her such a reply as she customarily offers others. “The notices you have seen in the papers are the unbridled imagination of their writers; why notice them. China's ‘New Army’ is a body of municipal police for the protection of Peking!” Your excellency has been quite misled on these points, I assure you. There are times when one cannot but admire the cunning which befools us!

The case against the Compradore of the Taku Tig and Lighter Co. is closed, but judgment is not yet delivered and will not be, I think, until the end of the week.

The T. P. G. has issued a warning to every village within its jurisdiction that the whole system of theft is now well-known, and anyone found purchasing goods stolen from the lighters will be severely punished.

The T. P. G. has also made a regulation that all houses are to hang a lantern in front of them after dark, as a precaution against thieves, it being naturally easier to detect suspicious characters if the streets are tolerably lighted, instead of being as now plunged in darkness. Some forget the regulation and fail to light up, so a lantern company is now being formed which undertakes to see that every man has his light burning.

PAKHOL.

(From a Correspondent.)

PAKHOL, March 7th.

Mr. E. F. Bennett arrived here on the 18th ult. to take up the post of H. B. M. Consul, relieving Mr. E. G. Werner, who had been acting as British Consul here since the departure of Mr. V. S. Savage in June last year. Mr. Werner has been carrying on the dual duty of British Consul at Hoihow and Pakhol at the same time until he was relieved by Mr. Bennett on the 18th inst., on which date Mr. Werner left for Hoihow.

The French Postal Agency here which has been carried on formerly in the French Consulate, is now transferred to a separate building near the Custom House. We cannot complain of postal facilities now. While we can boast of having two Post Offices here, we are still behind our neighbouring port of Hoihow, where there are no less than three institutions—British, French and Chinese.

Telegraphic news was received here on Sunday last that the Triad Society men, who are very numerous and powerful at present in this part of the province, broke into Siak-seng, (a prefecture of Koochow, to the west of the new French possession of Kwongchow-wan) to release from the jail a few hundreds of their comrades and others therein confined. The garrison, not being strong enough to prevent their entrance, bolted, and I hear the (sub-prefect, also, had a narrow escape with his life. Relief has been sent to the scene of the disturbance.

Mr. G. Moule, who was in charge of the Leikin Collectorate in Soochow arrived here on the 31st ultimo to relieve Mr. Paul H. King, Commissioner of Customs. Mr. King, who left here on the 3rd March on sick leave, was compelled to relinquish his post owing to failing health. When he came in the beginning of May, 1901, though he was not over strong, none suspected at the time that he could not carry on the work for more than a short time, but a few months after his taking over the charge of the Customs, he was compelled to confine himself to his house and ordered by his medical advisers to apply for leave. This climate, apparently, did not seem to agree with his feeble constitution. Mr. Moule assumed the charge of the Customs on the 3rd instant.

Writing to you on the 28th December last I mentioned then that “two weeks ago, a junk with transit cargo (I learnt later on composed of some bales of cotton yarn) to Kwang-Si, belonging to two foreign firms here, was intercepted by pirates on the way up, and part of the cargo taken ashore and carried away, etc.” Now, through the energy of the French and British Consuls, pressure was brought to bear on the prefect of Linchow on account of the unsettled state of the districts under his jurisdiction, with the result that the other day the firms concerned received full indemnity for the loss they sustained.

Owing to the unusually large number of pirates and robbers hereabout lately, it was thought necessary to send more reinforcements of troops from Canton to Linchow. About the end of January last some five hundred of the renowned Black Flags arrived here from Canton and have been since stationed in Linchow as supernumeraries, ready to be called out for any emergency. All went well with them until the 21st ultimo, when three of the men entered a house of ill-fame and forcibly took away some clothing belonging to the inmates. The Taoist, on being informed of the fact, caused the men to be arrested and tried by the Sub-prefect. They were found guilty of the theft and the Taoist ordered them to be decapitated. Their comrades in the barracks were dissatisfied with the severity of the sentence, as being inadequate with the comparative mildness of the crime, whereupon they rose to a man, demanding the release of the three men. The Taoist in the meantime retained the men in jail while he wired to the Black Flag General for instructions. The General replied that the sentence must be carried through or else there would be a loss of prestige. To carry out the sentence safely the Taoist caused the ammunition stored out to the men to be called back on the 23rd ult., and on the 24th the three men were executed. The dissatisfied comrades, without ammunition, could not therefore attempt insubordination and were helpless. They were afterwards sent to the different districts after the thieves.

We were honoured, on the 3rd instant, with the visit of a gentleman of no less distinction than Mons. Beau, the French Minister, who arrived here from Haiphong on board the French cruiser Préant. He left again on the following day for Kwang Chow Wan.

The Chinese gunboat Kwang Kam brought, on the 2nd instant, another detachment of 1000 troops from Canton for the garrison in Linchow.

We have been experiencing an unusually dry season lately. Water in the wells, from which we get our only supply, is low and muddy, and the long drought has caused the price of rice to advance. On the evening of the 4th instant we were visited by the first rain of the season. It was so scanty that was scarcely enough to soften the earth. We are badly in need of rain, the absence of which for many days more will surely bring sickness of some kind; if not the dreaded plague and cholera, amongst the native population especially.

tion of mankind regarding selfish profit solely as its motive, it develops vicious tendencies. And precisely for this end are artificial wants stimulated among primitive people; cravings for intoxicants and narcotics are fostered; together with demands for unnecessary raiment. Physical and moral uncleanness, disease, and increased mortality have been the result. On the whole however, the proportion of benefits conferred by civilization appears to be greatly in excess of evils induced. The loss of primitive simplicity is a price paid for parting with much that is bad. A truer civilization may eventually return to a higher simplicity.

In the high latitudes the dormant tendency of all nature in winter extends even to man, who then inclines to hibernation. More sleep is needed then. In the tropics the blood circulates quicker, and in various ways a greater vital energy is indicated there. In tropical dietaries the fuel foods predominate—the carbohydrates: rice, oil, sugar, and sweets, in general, though modified by cooling fruits.

Visitors in the tropics are disposed to regard the lack of haste and bustle as indicating a defect in popular character. But why should there be haste and bustle? In Northern lands is not the stress to support physical existence so great as to preclude, on the part of the many, due attention to life's inferior aspects? In tropical lands, however, together with the milder temperate-zone regions nature favours a more genial civilization: less pressure upon life, social benefits more accessible and more widely diffused.

This is peculiarly a comfort commanding age, and it has seen an extraordinary democratization of luxury, in countless things that add pleasure, worth, and graciousness to life. Under the simple and slightly varying condition of tropical climates, and with the resources of modern science at command, it is comparatively easy to secure comfort. The element of pure air immensely favours life there.

The climatic aspects of tropical regions cannot be classed under one caption any more than may those of the so-called temperate zone. There are enormous differences between the steaming atmosphere of the Brazilian lowlands, of the Isthmus of Panama, or of the Malay Peninsula, and the ovenlike dryness of Sahara and Arabia, or the delightful equability of the islands of Polynesia; just as between New England, the Mississippi Valley at Memphis, the Canadian north, the south of England, or the Russian steppes. But with healthful existence made possible in substantially all parts of the tropics the development of an advanced civilization there should be as practicable as it has been in many Northern localities where thermometers record terrific fluctuations in temperature. But the ideal regions for agreeable habitation are the tropical uplands, which of all parts of the world, seem best adapted for high civilization. Their climates are the most genuinely temperate on earth. From day to day and from season to season the weather changes just enough for a gentle variety, with transitions seldom violent and never extreme.

Perhaps ages will pass before the tropical civilization differentiates itself from the culture of to-day, free from hampering precedents and entangling conventions. But humanity grows plastic with enlightenment; race tends to adapt itself to environments; and so we may look for the flowering of a tropical renaissance.

Our race has reached no loftier levels in intellect and spirit than were attained in India and Greece and tropical suns in soft Mediterranean air. May not the zone where man was cradled some day become the theatre of his highest life—the same simplicity of the Greeks underlying a culture savoured by the essence of the best that modern science and art can give, to leading heights yet unimagined?

GUN AND TORPEDO TRIALS OF THE "MIKASA."

The gun and torpedo trials of the Japanese battleship Mikasa were attended by certain features of rather peculiar interest. All the guns and torpedo fittings were supplied by Sir W. G. Armstrong, Whitworth and Co., whose representatives had charge of the armament trials. From each of the 14, 6-in. and 32 smaller 4.1 guns two rounds were fired without hitch or difficulty. From the submerged torpedo tubes, which were of the usual Elswick type, 20 rounds were fired, of which six were fired with the ship steaming at speeds varying from 15 to 17 knots. These trials also passed off without any difficulty. The hydraulic machinery for working the 12-in. guns in their turrets included several new arrangements tending to improve the rapidity of firing. To make the trial thorough, it was arranged to fire the guns in the after turret for rapidly without aiming at a target; while the rounds from the guns in the fore turret were to be each aimed deliberately, but also fired with as much rapidity as was consistent with good shooting. The result fully realized all anticipations. From the after turret the best result was 30 seconds for loading after firing. This is an improvement of about 12 seconds on any previous record. Other good intervals were 39 seconds and 40 seconds.

In the fore turret, using one gun only, and starting with the gun empty and the breech closed just as it would be after having fired a shot, the ammunition being supplied under strictly service conditions, three rounds were fired at a target at a distance of 8,800 yards in 143 seconds. This gives an average of 48 seconds per round, and excellent as is the result it is only fair to add that it included delays amounting in the aggregate to no less than 46 seconds. These delays were due in the first place to the hydraulic rammer being locked, a circumstance which was not noticed until after the trials had commenced; and in the second place to the fact that the captain of the turret temporarily lost sight of the target owing to the approaching darkness (the hour of the trials was about 4.45 p.m., Jan. 20). If the lost period be eliminated it will be seen that the total time of loading and firing three rounds was only 96 seconds, or an average of 32 1/3 seconds per round. The first shot lifted the target out of the water, the second was from 10 to 20 yards over, the third ten to the left and 20 over. The target was composed of three small buoys with red flags on staves. Hitherto one aimed round per minute has been considered an excellent result from a 12-in. gun.

The success of the Mikasa's trials was largely due to the easy working of the breech screws. Never in all the 12 rounds fired did they even become stiff to work. The same man alone opened and closed them by hand throughout the trials. These were fitted with Elswick mechanism. The aiming was much facilitated by a new single lever mechanism which combines the motions of training, elevating, and firing. Rapidly in loading was also gained by the use of a new arrangement for washing out the chamber and bore of the gun. The whole working of the guns and turrets was free from difficulties of any kind. The Japanese officers declared themselves most pleased, and heartily congratulated the Elswick firm on their success.

NOTICE.
THE SECOND VOLUME of BOXES EXCHANGE TABLES with Rates in 1/10ths from 1/10 to 1/100 down to 1/1000 is now in the bookbinder's hands and will be published next week. These Tables, which run in columns of 100, from 1000 down to 1/1000, and from 1/1000 down to 1/10 or from $999 down to 1 cent, enable the user to arrive at the value in Dollars of any sum in Sterling under £1,000 by simply adding the equivalent of the Shillings and Pence to that of the Pounds; or to get the value in Sterling of any Sum of Dollars and Cents under $1,000 by adding the equivalent of the Cents to that of the Dollars. By these simple means of computation a very considerable saving of time and trouble, besides securing a ready means of proving accuracy is secured, as is illustrated in the following examples. To reduce £879.17.11 into Dollars at Exchange 1/10 1/16:

£879. 0. 0 = $9,561. 926
17.11 = 9. 745
$9,571. 671

whereas with the other exchange books the process would be as follows—

£800. 0. 0 = $8,702. 550
79. 0. 0 = 761. 473
9. 0. 0 = 97. 904
17. 0. 0 = 9. 247
11. 0. 0 = 0. 497

$9,571. 671

or to convert the dollars into sterling at the same rate of exchange—

$9,000.00 = £827. 6. 10. 8
571.00 = 52. 9. 9. 11
671 = 1. 2. 13
£879.17.11.00

but by other books it would be:

$9,000.00 = £827. 6. 10. 8
500.00 = 45. 10. 3. 4
70.00 = 6. 8. 8. 6
1.000 = 1. 10. 1
600 = 1. 1. 3
70 = 1. 9
1 = 1

£879.17.11.00

Every care has been taken in compiling these Tables to insure their accuracy and even as the book was being printed the last impression of each sheet was taken and carefully rechecked by two separate persons and any little errors in reading which will crop up in such works as these are carefully corrected in each copy before it is issued, thus making it a most accurate and useful book. Subscriptions for this and the previous volume may be sent to the Daily Telegraph Office, Price 6s per copy. Hongkong, 10th February, 1902. [12746]

THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY.

THERAPION.

This successful and highly popular remedy,
as employed in the Continental Hospitals by Ricord, Rostan, Jobert, Velpeau, and others, combines all the desiderata to be sought in a medicine of the kind, and surpasses everything hitherto employed.

THERAPION No. 1, in a few days only,
removes all discharges from the urinary organs, effectually superseding injections, the use of which does irreparable harm by laying the foundation of stricture and other serious diseases. In dysentery, piles, irritation of the lower bowel, cough, bronchitis, asthma, and some of the more trying complaints of this kind, it will be found astonishingly efficacious, affording prompt relief where other well-tried remedies have been powerless.

THERAPION No. 2, for impurity of the blood, scurvy, pimples, spots, blotches, pains and swellings of the joints, secondary symptoms, disease of the bones, sore throat, and all diseases for which it has been too much fashion to employ mercury, sassafras, &c., to the destruction of the sufferer's teeth and ruin of health. This preparation purifies the whole system through the blood, and thoroughly eliminates every poisonous matter from the body.

THERAPION No. 3, for nervous exhaustion, waste of vitality, and all the distressing consequences arising from early error, excess, residence in hot, unhealthy climates, &c. It possesses surprising power in restoring strength and vigour to the debilitated.

THERAPION may be procured of the principal Chemists and Mercants throughout the world. Prices in England 6/6 and 4/6. In ordering, the purchaser should state which of the word "THERAPION" appears on the Government Stamp (in white letters on a red ground) affixed to every genuine package by order of Her Majesty's Hon. Commissioners, and without which it is a forgery.
